Crowd Given Rare Exhibition. Greek Succumbs, but Turner Withstands Onslaughts.

Withstands Onslaughts.

Dr. B. F. Roller, the physician wrestler of Seattle, nearly won his handicap match with Joe Turner and John Kilonis in the Academy of Music last night, and though he was unsuccessful in pinning the shoulders of both lads to the mat twice each within an hour and thirty minutes, he did favorably impress the large house on hand despite the weather conditions. Dr. Roller threw Kilonis the required number of times, but failed to get Turner's shoulders down but once.

Before the match began Dr. Roller made a short talk, in which he told of the many advantages presented by made a short talk, in which he told of the many advantages presented by wrestling and boxing. It was a pleasing talk, and seemed to strike a sympathetic chord in the hearts of those listening. Exercise of the proper sort was the panacea suggested by the wrestler. He held that efforts of a physical nature, properly directed, would improve the grade of men and women a hundredfold.

The first fall with Klionls was obtained in twenty-six minutes. The sectained in twenty-six minutes. The sec-ond required twenty-seven minutes. Turner was first pinned after nineteen minutes of work, but the doctor was unable to catch his wily opponent in the seventeen minutes remaining in which to achieve the final fall. It was a fast and furlous pace that

It was a fast and furious pace that was set throughout, and the house enjoyed every minute of the engagement. Roller won his falls through sheer cleverness. He refused absolutely to take advantage of his greater bulk, and depended entirely upon scientific methods.

Both Turner and Kilonis are speedy, and Roller met speed with speed.

Both Turner and Kilonis are speedy, and Roller met speed with speed. Time and again he pulled some startling work that brought the crowd to its collective feet. It is not stretching a point to say that the bouts last night were far and away the classiest yet staged here. At least this was true from the spectators' standpoint.

Bull Montano and James Porkras, the last named a wrestler from Washington, who claims to have thrown Charleston, S. C., March II.-El Wah won the Selling Handicap, the feature race on the Seiling Handicap, the feature race on to-day's card at Palmetto Park with Robert Bradley second. The latter was the popular choice, and might have won out but for the fact that he got away bad, and was slow in making up lost ground. Esther Blue won a five and a half furlong event for fillies and mares, beating Henotic under the wire by a head.

The last race, a mile, was won by Lady Innocence, with Carburetor, the favorite, at her neck the last named a wrestler from Washington, who claims to have thrown Turner in straight falls in Washington back in 1911, challenged the lightweight champion. But Turner is just at present busily engaged preparing for his bout with Con Albright next Tuesday night in the Academy; therefore he made no reply to the challenges. Everything depends upon what he can accomplish against Albright. The New York middleweight will be here to-morrow to begin final trainhere to-morrow to begin final train-ing. John Kilonis, the wonderful Greek, has been engaged by Albright as his sparring partner. No training quarters have yet been selected, but the two will go to some quiet spot where they can do the most effective work.
